TIGERS SHOWING PLEASES MORLEY.

Columbia Hopes for Success Saturday - Strengthened by Princeton-Dickinson Game.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23.-There are now but two more days before the Columbia and Princeton teams, rivals for gridlen glory, meet at Princeton. While Princeton is anxious to wipe out While Princeton is anxious to wipe out the memory of a certain defeat two years ago. Columbia is just as anxious that she shall still hold the reputation of being the Tigers' trainers. How much Capi, weeks and Coach Morley saw in the Princeton-Dickinson game yesterday to make them of a happy frame of mind is hard to tell, but they certainly had a pleased expression as they wandered out of the gates after the game was over, and well they might be pleased. Princeton's exhibition was wretched, and, it must be admitted, worse than usual. Why it was worse than usual is the question most of the Columbia men witnessing the game are perpiexed over.

wonder what is the matter with the team.
Combative tactics were used at times unnecessarily by some of the Princeton team, which might indicate they were nervous. Brown, at guard, is not the success expected, and the sooner Bradley is able to get out the more relieved will Princeton followers be. The only solution of the centre problem at present favorable on all sides is to put Dutcher at guard and Bradley at centre.

To-day Capt. Davis will start his final work for the Columbia game. If it is possible the definite line up will be determined to-day, and to-morrow they will have a hard practice game in which they will try to perfect team work.

BIG TIME TO-DAY FOR

nell to-day.

The practice will not be secret, but open, and arrangements have been made to have a representation of 2,000 on Percy Field. The Cadet and Ithaca bands have been enlisted for the occasion and they will lead the procession waich will form at the library and march to the field. Songs prepared for the occasion will be sung, and every effort will be made to put new life and vigor into the discouraged and usheartened football warriors.

The whole law faculty will be present, and Profs. Huffout and Woodruff will make speeches of an encouraging tone. President Schurman has been appealed to, and he has promised to dismiss all university work for the afternoon, although some of the faculty who are opposed to football have taken a strong stand against this action.
